A Bright Year Ahead

I would like to express my gratitude to the entire Northeast Community for welcoming me into your school. This week has been a magical and inspirational re-entry into Northeast. Amidst the many changes that this school has endured, we are all so fortunate to have such an amazing and cohesive school staff that serves as the glue that holds us together. It is beyond my pleasure and fortune to serve as your principal.

This week should serve as a beacon for things to come. Coincidentally, this was the Week of RESPECT. Each day at Northeast we took time to highlight a positive quality about being a responsible, engaged and positive global citizen. Personally, it is one of my favorite weeks in the school year. Led by our brilliant counselor, Ms. Danielle Kupperman, Northeast celebrated the differences and similarities between all of us. Whether wearing mismatched socks, bright colors or Northeast School spirit wear, our community punctuated the message of our togetherness, positive climate and Northeast vibe! Thank you for all of your support in maximizing participation in these events.

High Expectations

I hold myself to high expectations for our community. Our success is critical to effectiveness of our communication. A personal goal of mine is to send out a communication every Friday, in the form of a principal's newsletter, that focuses on a topic that our community has asked to learn about. While these newsletters will often have some dates to remember, their main purpose will be to share the inner workings of what make things work here. If you have any topics that you feel our community is interested in knowing about, do not hesitate to reach out to me.

I will highlight more information about this year and our goals at the Northeast Back to School Night being held next Tuesday, October 10th.
